

Be part of a unique high school summer experience for a new class of leaders.

Program cost

$250* includes housing, meals, and all materials.

* Financial aid available on first-come, first-served basis

To apply

Rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors send the following to: susan.kells@asu.edu

- Unofficial transcript
- Statement describing why you want to participate in the Institute (300 words)
- Letter of recommendation from a teacher/counselor sent to: susan.kells@asu.edu

Deadline

May 18, 2018

Applications received prior to May 18 will receive expedited consideration

Questions?

Email Susan Kells at susan.kells@asu.edu or call 480-965-0427

scetl.asu.edu

Civic Leadership Institute: Constitutional Rights and Liberties

June 17 - 22, 2018

The School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership is pleased to announce our inaugural summer Civic Leadership Institute for high school students, an intensive one-week seminar in residence at ASU Tempe.

Institute participants will explore the rights and freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution, such as the freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religion, the right to keep and bear arms, due process of law, and equal protection of the laws.

Activities will include interactive lectures, breakout discussions, meals with faculty, daily readings, and evening activities with ASU student mentors. Participants will complete the Institute experience by engaging in a Supreme Court simulation on the final day.

ASU School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership
Arizona State University